

Esteem

Love and belongings

Safety

Physiological needs

True Fulfillment

This film tells us a story of a man who gives up some of his time and money to help others. That is the way, not every noble wealthy man would choose. But no matter what he continues to help strangers on the streets; he gives his hand to a woman who is always stuck on the road, happily gives up his fried chicken, and shares a part of his, not very big, wealth with a girl who cannot afford to pay for her education. These are things that only a truly fulfilled person could do.

Thank you for your attention